UP: Six booked for denying drinking water to Dalit officer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
LUCKNOW, AUGUST 3

A DALIT deputy chief veterinary officer has lodged a police complaint against six persons, including three village heads and a Block Development Committee (BDC) member, for allegedly denying her drinking water in UP's Kaushambi district. Dr Seema was at Ambawa Poorab village in Manjhanpur block to survey projects when she was allegedly denied water.

"On July 31, I went to Ambawa Poorab village for a survey. I carry my own bottle, but the water had finished and I asked people there for water. There were three pradhans, a gram vikas adhikari (village development officer), a BDC member and a fair-price shop owner there. I was not given water for two-and-a-half hours. I am a diabetic patient and a woman," she alleged.

She added, "Later, I asked villagers for water and two of them stood up. But, BDC member Jhallar Tiwari and Gram Vikas Adhikari Ravi Dutt Mishra signalled them to sit. After two-and-a-half hours, Mishra told Tiwari that he had a water bottle in his jeep. But, Tiwari replied, she should not use the bottle as it would be spoiled and they would have to throw it away. This was all because I am a Dalit."

MORADABAD Panchayat orders social boycott of 12 families for going to church

MANISH SAHU
LUCKNOW, AUGUST 3

A CASTE panchayat in Moradabad city of Uttar Pradesh has ordered the social boycott of 12 families of the Saini community at the Nawabpura locality for allegedly "converting" to Christianity and regularly going to church.

While the 12 affected families say they did not convert to Christianity but attended Church to cure health issues, a police inquiry into the social boycott Friday has found that none of the 12 families converted and that the social boycott was ordered due to "misinformation".

Senior members of the 300-strong Saini community at Nawabpura issued the social boycott diktat at a meeting two days ago. It was decided that no one from the community would have any kind of association with the 12 families and no shopkeepers from the community would sell goods to them. It was also decided that a fine of Rs 5,000 would be imposed on those who defied the decision.

Shiv Lal Saini, one of the organisers of the meeting, told The Indian Express: "For over a month there was information about these 12 families regularly visiting a church. People in the community strongly believed that they all have converted to Christianity."

Finally, order's out: Justice K M Joseph in Supreme Court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
NEW DELHI, AUGUST 3

THE PRESIDENT of India on Friday appointed Madras High Court Chief Justice Indira Banerjee, Orissa HC CJ Vineet Saran and Uttarakhand HC CJ K M Joseph as judges of the Supreme Court.

Sources said the order of their elevation was according to the all-India seniority of HC judges. Which effectively means that Justice Banerjee and Justice Saran will be senior to Justice Joseph in the SC.

The President, under the provisions of Article 124 of the Constitution, issued the warrant of appointment for the three judges. At present, the SC has 22 judges. With Friday's appointments, it will have six vacancies. With the elevation of Justice Banerjee, the SC will have a total of three woman judges, that includes Justices R Bhanumathi and Indu Malhotra — the most woman judges the apex court has had. Justice Joseph is, currently, the longest serving Chief Justice of a HC in the country and has served as CJ of Uttarakhand for a little over four years. Justice Joseph will have a longer tenure as SC judge as compared to Justices Banerjee and Saran.

The appointments end the six-month-long standoff between the judiciary and the executive over the elevation of Justice Joseph. The SC collegium, headed by CJI Dipak Misra, had on January 10, recommended the elevation of Justice Joseph along with senior advocate Indu Malhotra.

However, the government while agreeing to the elevation of Malhotra, returned the Justice Joseph recommendation on April 26.

In a letter to Chief Justice of India Dipak Misra in April, Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad cited Justice Joseph's standing in the all-India seniority list of High Court judges, adequate representation for the Kerala High Court which is his parent High Court in the apex court, and lack of representation of some other High Courts to request for reconsideration of the recommendation.

On July 16, the SC collegium reiterated the recommendation elevating Justice Joseph, along with Justices Banerjee and Saran.

Justice Joseph was appointed as the CJ of Uttarakhand on July 31, 2014. Justice KM Joseph, who studied in Loyola college in Chennai, secured his law degree from Law College, Ernakulum. He is the son of former SC judge K K Mathew who also served as Chairman of the Law Commission.

A member of the bar, Justice Joseph was elevated directly as the permanent judge of Kerala HC on October 14, 2004 and is currently the senior most judge from the parent HC of Kerala. He turned 60 on June 17. Which effectively means he will serve as the Supreme Court judge for over four years.

In April 2016, the bench headed by Justice Joseph had quashed President's Rule imposed by the Centre in Uttarakhand.

It was speculated that this was why the government was stalling his appointment to the SC. However, Law Minister Ravi Shankar Prasad, had rubbished the allegation, and said: "I wish to deny with all authority at my command that it has nothing to do with it (Justice Joseph's decision) at all, for two obvious reasons. Firstly, a proper (BJP-led) government with nearly three-fourth majority has been elected in Uttarakhand. Secondly, that order was confirmed by Justice (J S) Khehar of the Supreme Court... Khehar was the judge who also set aside the National Judicial Commission initiative of the government. Yet he became the Chief Justice of India during the BJP-led NDA government. I think that by itself is (proof) enough."

Justice Banerjee, elevated from the bar, was directly appointed as the permanent judge of Calcutta HC on February 5, 2002.

SC Collegium reiterates three names for elevation to HCs

ANANTHAKRISHNAN
NEW DELHI, AUGUST 3

THE SUPREME COURT Collegium has reiterated its recommendation for elevation of three advocates as High Court judges — one to the Punjab and Haryana HC and two to the Madras HC — despite the Centre's reservations.

The apex judicial appointments body comprising three most senior judges — Chief Justice of India Dipak Misra and Justices Ranjan Gogoi and Madan B Lokur — which met here on August 1, however, considered the Centre's objections to elevation of a few other names and re-mitted them back to the Chief Justices of the respective High Courts. It also cleared the names of five judicial officers to the Karnataka HC Court.
The SC Collegium had cleared the proposal for elevation of Harnaresh Singh Gill and six other advocates to the Punjab and Haryana High Court in April 2017. While all the others were appointed, the government returned Gill's recommendation to the CJ for reconsideration.

The Collegium, however, said the Centre had not given any reasons for this. "No reason has been given why his appointment was withheld. Even now, no adverse material has been placed in the file," the collegium said in its resolution.

The judges said they had "perused the note recorded in the file" and that "the High Court Collegium had found the seven names, including that of Shri Hamaresh Singh Gill, suitable for elevation after assessing their performance, legal acumen and arguing skill on the basis of interaction during court hearings from time to time".

The Collegium on August 1 also reiterated its December 4, 2017, recommendation to elevate two advocates to the Madras High Court. The Centre had sent back the files of advocates C Emaliam and Senthilkumar Ramamoorthy, noting that there were complaints against them. But the Collegium said it did not find "any prima facie substance" in the complaints and hence was "not persuaded to reconsider the matter". It said the complaints were "devoid of merit" and "deserve to be ignored".

The Collegium, however, "re-mitted" to the Madras HC Chief Justice its April 19, 2018, recommendation to elevate judicial officer Sarodjiny Devy as HC judge. The Centre had returned Devy's file to the CJ.
